Teamwork
When geese fly in formation, they travel 10% faster than when they fly alone which enables them to fly 70% farther.
Geese share leadership. When the lead goose tires, they rotate back into the "V" and another flies forward to lead.
Geese keep company with the fellen. When a sick or weak goose drops out of flight formation, at least one other goose joins to help and to protect.
By being part of a team, we too, can accomplish much more, much faster. Words of encouragement and support (honking from behind) help inspire and energise those in the front lines. This helps them to keep pace despite the day-to-day pressures and fatigue, and finally showing compassion and active caring for our fellow man— a member of the ultimate team: "mankind". The next time you see a formation of geese, remember that it is a reward, a challenge and a priviledge to be a Contributing member of a TEAM.
